

STATE	COUNTY	TOWN OR VICINITY
MARYLAND ✓	Baltimore City County	Baltimore (931 Fell Street) ^{4p} & d
INDEX NUMBER	MONUMENT
WD, 4 - BALT, 116	Hollingsworth-Steel House
REPRESENTED IN NEGATIVE FILE	H.A.B.S. SURVEY NO.	History - This late eighteenth-century town house, one of the last surviving in Baltimore, was probably built by or for Jesse Hollingsworth between 1782 and 1796 and was John Steel's dwelling from 1796 for some time. Present owner: William Ziranski, 935 Fell St., Baltimore. Description - Brick row house, three-and-a-half stories, gable roof with dormers, modillioned cornice, three-bay facade,
	MD-189
PUBLISHED PHOTOGRAPHS
PUBLISHED DRAWINGS
GPO 6-8369	10-444 HISTORIC AMERICAN BUILDINGS SURVEY (over) ✓

entrance in right-hand bay leads into hallway from front to back, stairway in hallway, rooms to the side.

References - First Records of Baltimore Town and Jones Town, 1729-1797 (Baltimore, 1905), pp. 44-46. Land Office Records of Baltimore County in Maryland State Archives, Annapolis. Mss. Early Records of the City of Baltimore, 1756-1800, in Baltimore City Archives, City Hall, Baltimore. Mss. Baltimore City Tax Assessment Field Book, 1798, in Baltimore City Archives, City Hall, Baltimore.

Author of Card - Osmund R. Overby, Architect, National Park Service, 143 South Third Street, Philadelphia 6, Pa. -- August 25, 1960